

Application Deployment Guide

The application is deployed using Docker.

The production environment runs on Linux.

Deployment requires the Docker image to be built before deployment.

The deployment team is responsible for production deployment.